The President's Address

Most times
We address each other too often.
In our desire for relativity
We attempt dialogues
Of cosmic dimensions,
But Einstein expressed it best:
$E = mc^2$.

The human condition, however,
Does not argue well
For formulae.
Cells, chromosomes, and water
Are impersonal.
The protoplasmic phenomenon
Of life
Is essentially transcellular.

Therefore,
Let us combine to provide
A camera obscura,
The lens of which
Is in the eye of the beholder.

Sometimes
It is better that we be silent
So that we may recognize fully
The oldest axiom of them all:
Agape.

Dedication

We think "we've come a long way," as the saying goes, entering Mount Vernon as just so many individuals, but developing a tremendous sense of togetherness while here. We have experienced a force which has brought us together.

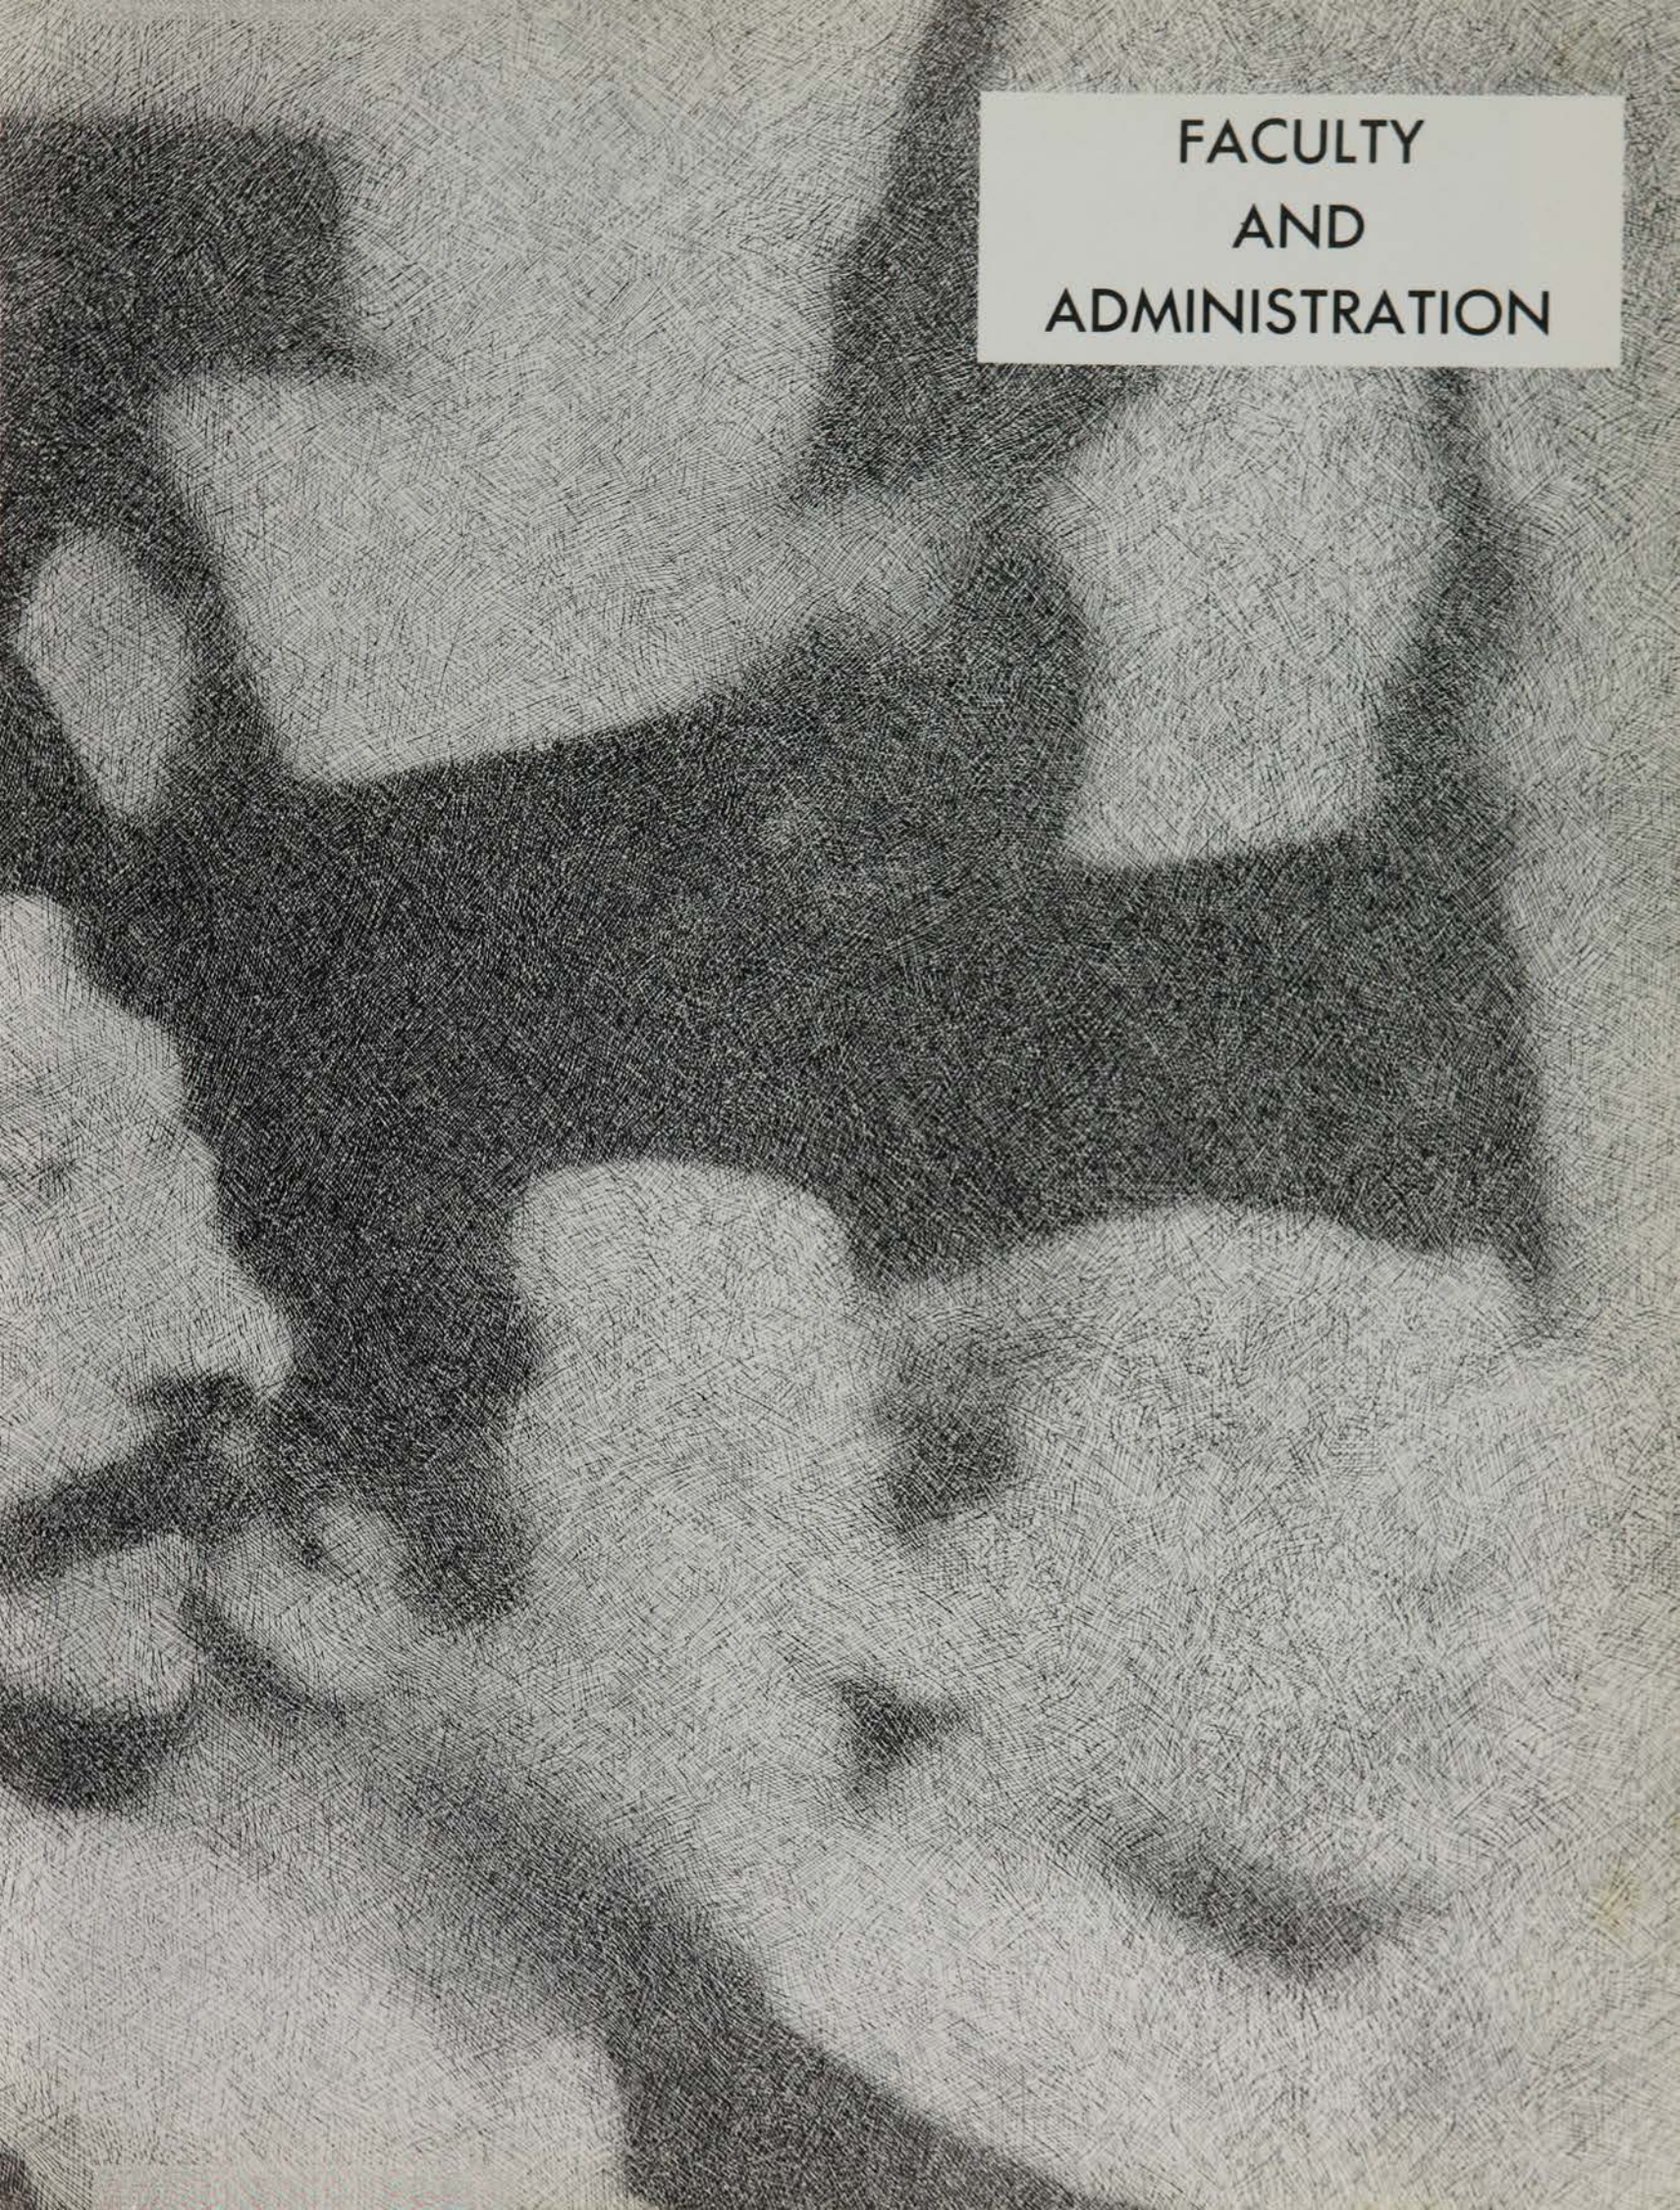

Think back to the first hello in September and ahead to the last goodbye in May; to the element which throughout the year held the fort down but always managed to keep things rolling.

We felt at home knowing there was someone to turn to when we needed a friend, sharing the good times as well as the bad, living together and learning together.

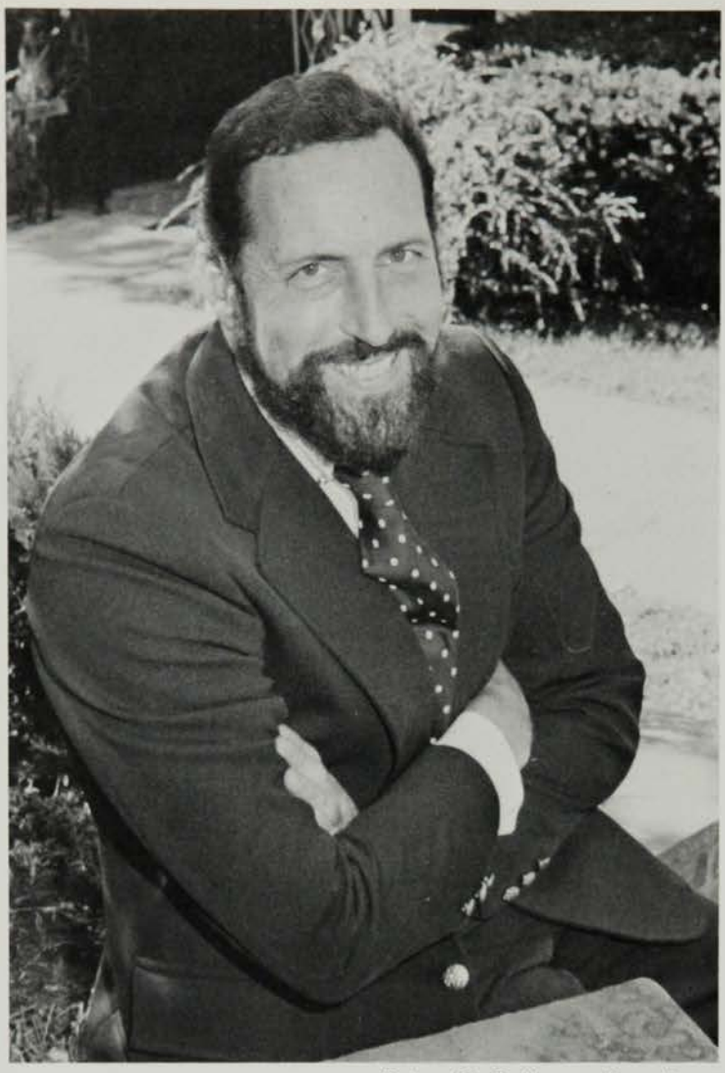

And though we must depart as individuals ready to make our mark in the world, we are all bound by the not much older but wiser friends we leave behind, knowing that whatever we achieve will be due in part to their influence.

We, the class of 1973, wish to dedicate our yearbook to these friends, the House Residents.

ACTIVITIES

Senators

Post Script, April 20, 1972

Next year, the Student Government at Mount Vernon will wear a new face. The structure has been radically altered (not altered by radicals!) and the classes of '73 and '74 will be the first ones to see it work.

The new system is completely different from any other student government in the United States. It is unique, yet based on several different, valid and working representative bodies today.

Essentially, the student government will revolve around five equal Senators and twelve members of Student Council. Each of the Senators (3 sophomores and 2 freshmen) will preside over the entire Student Government for a single 6-week block. This Senator will be referred to as the Presiding Senator or Senator-in-charge, and she has the final responsibility for that six weeks, much as the President of the Student Body has now for the whole year. She will also be the Chairman of the Judicial Board during her six week block.

FRESHMEN SENATORS: Gretchen Staak and Jewell Trowers.

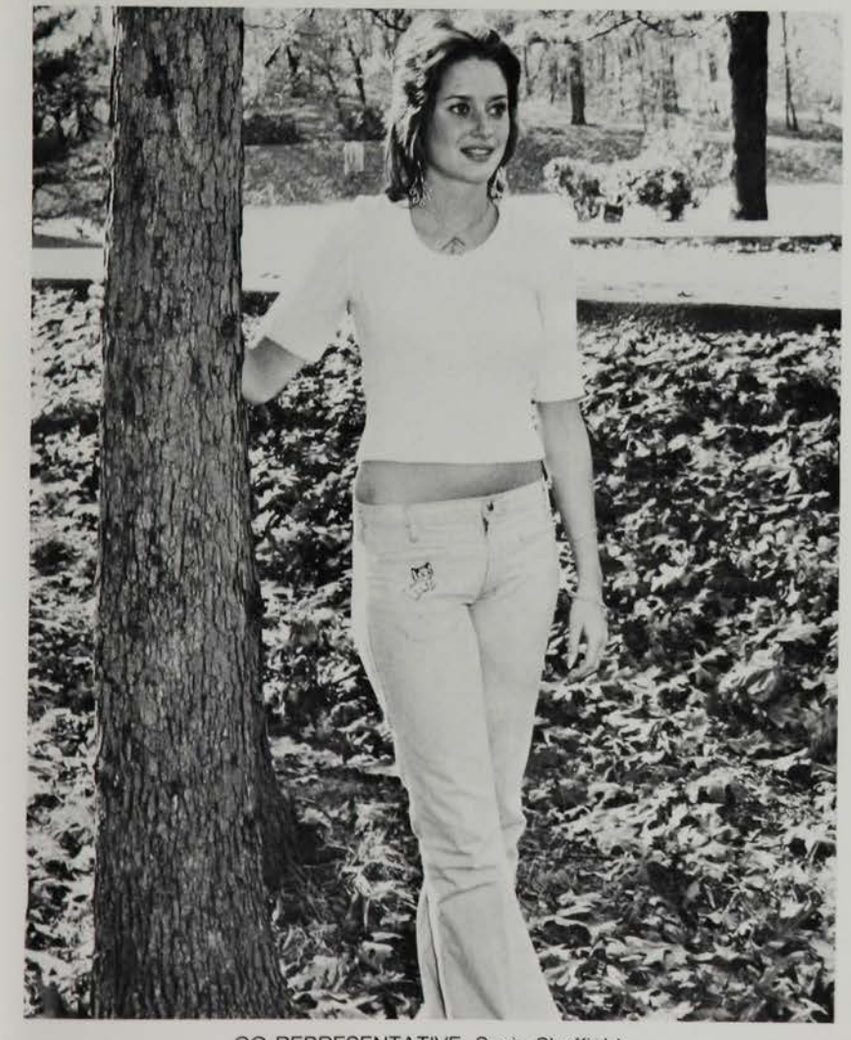

SOPHOMORE SENATORS: Chris Caldwell, Basi McAshan, Elizabeth Sumwalt.

Judicial Board

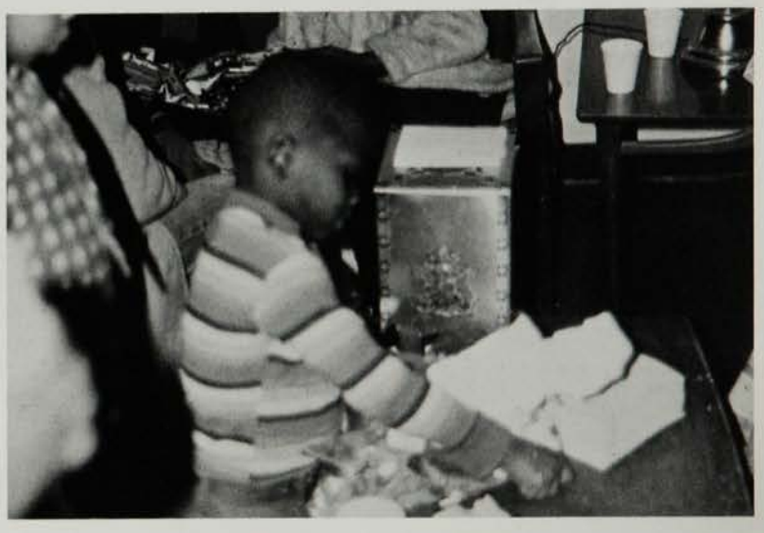

CO-REPRESENTATIVE: Cynthia Colt.

CO-REPRESENTATIVE: Susie Sheffield.

CANDIDS CALLED FOR

The Bell Cote '73 is rapidly taking shape. The first half of the book was submitted to the publisher before Christmas vacation, with the second and final submission approaching in February. At this time the staff would like to ask your cooperation on a few important points.

First of all, Lucy Brown is currently taking pictures of clubs and officers as well as of the freshmen by dorms. Please listen and watch for notices of when your club or house will be photographed, and be sure to be present.

Second, but of equal importance, is the matter of the candid section of the yearbook. This should be a significant part of the publication because it alone can show the vital behind-the-scenes nitty gritty of campus life. The staff depends largely on you, the students, to contribute pictures of yourself and your friends for reproduction in the book. Photos should be black and white, but good clear color shots are acceptable. All pictures will be returned in May. To date, very few photos have been submitted. Remember, it's up to you! If you all want a representative candid section, please take and submit your pictures to Linda Cuzzi, Hensley 35, as soon as possible. The absolute deadline is February 5th.

Christmas Casualties

The cocktail party held Friday evening, December 1st at the Pirate's Den, provided a buffet upstairs with drinks and music by "St. John's Churchyard" downstairs. A good number of students attended as well as President and Mrs. Pelham and Mr. and Mrs. Jewett. Students agreed it was a nice subdued party.

But this was certainly not the case Saturday night. That evening the Christmas Formal was held at the Golden Parrott Restaurant in downtown Washington. It was just one of those nights when everything clicked — clear and crisp outdoors with a fire blazing in the foyer fireplace inside. The band, "Musique," was terrific and everyone present had access to all the hors d'oeuvres, beer and champagne they could handle (and then some!). Spotted among the 90 odd couples crushed together on a 9 by 12 dance floor were several Mt. Vernon alumnae and Dean Huntington! If you were there, no more need be said. If you weren't, you should'a been. You missed a great time.

An Invitation

In Don Quixote Cervantes says, "Come, enter into my imagination." Asylum invites you to enter into the imagination of your fellows as the staff presents this anthology of poetry essays, photography, fiction and painting. This arts magazine is designed to represent the diverse talents found within the Mount Vernon College community. So, relax and enjoy. Enter the quiet world of Asylum and listen to the voices of people speaking to people.

At times it has seemed that we were only fighting windmills, but after much hard work we're happy to introduce this edition. A planned spring issue, however, will only be possible with your continuing interest and co-operation. Any work of art, we hold, is a gift, an act of love. Asylum hopes its efforts will increase this kind of communication in the college community.

Gold Key

Post Script, Nov. 21, 1972

SLICE OF LIFE

by Basi McAshan

This year's College Weekend was a complete success thanks to Gold Key, The Admissions Personnel and Harvey Hupcap and his fabulous Du-Ron-Rons. There were an estimated forty-seven high school juniors and seniors on campus Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11, representing a number of high school and prep schools.

Friday morning the students arrived and attended a reception in the Administrative Center, where they mingled with students and faculty. Mrs. Whitney, Tom McMahon and Dean Huntington spoke about different aspects of college life and programs that Mt. Vernon has to offer. Following this informal gathering the girls attended lunch and classes of their choice. A three screen slide show which was put together by the L.R.C. was shown in the refectory presenting the various aspects and opportunities of Mount Vernon and Washington.

After indulging in one of the famous dining hall dinners, the visitors were taken to Ford's Theatre to see Godspell. Upon their return they enjoyed watching and dancing to Harvey Hupcap and the Du-Ron-Rons, the main feature in the field house that evening.

dick?

Driving into the center of Washington, you may catch a glimpse of a Mount Vernon politician entering or leaving 1730 Pennsylvania Ave., Nixon's campaign headquarters. With the exciting advent of the November elections, the Young Republicans headed by Brien Jordan have been actively participating in the campaign by doing volunteer work with the Young Voters and The Committee To Re-elect the President. The volunteers report that it is alot of fun being involved and working with the people at the headquarters. Some of the work has involved addressing envelopes, sorting mail, mapping, making telephone calls and canvassing. Illustrious figures have made occasional visits to the headquarters: some girls had the opportunity to talk to Mrs. Agnew.

Depending on the interest of the students, an election returns party may be held in the Field House Election Day at 9:00. If you have any questions or would like to do volunteer work with the Young Republicans, call Brien at 3193. Time is getting short!

george?

The Young Democrats club is a group open to any interested student who is registered at Mount Vernon. Its purpose is to promote interest in political activity by bringing provocative speakers to campus, by holding debates, and by joining with neighboring college chapters in various political activities.

This year, the president of Young Democrats is Bertrand Spangler, the vice- president is Debbie Burns and the secretary-treasurer is Cindy Pikul. The members are: Kim Gully, Diane Dillin and Barbara Sam.

The main and most important activity in which the members are presently engaged is working in the Democratic Headquarters on 1910 K St. They answer phones, mimeograph papers, sell posters and pins, and drive aged and other people in need of a ride to the polls. On Saturdays, they help take polls by going from door to door in certain neighborhoods. If the person is in favor of George McGovern, they then offer them a ride to the polls if needed along with any material they might want about him.

If there are any people who are interested in joining Young Democrats, please cantact Bertrand Spangler, Rm.# 31, Somers.

Student Coordinating Committee

Get Up And Get Away

Student Coordinating Committee, under the skillful leadership of Cindy Pikul, has been searching for new and different ways to involve Mt. Vernon students in extra-curricular activities. For example, Cindy not only arranged transportation for girls interested in witnessing the inaugural parade; she also managed to secure a number of $50 box seat tickets for $5 apiece! (There are some bargains you just can't argue with.) The Committee is also busy right now recruiting some very interesting speakers for February, as well as planning a return visit and poetry reading by Eugene Robert Platt and his wife, Kathleen.

And for those itching to get away for a while, Student Coordinating Committee is sponsoring another trip to Annapolis. This time the destination will be the Naval Academy for a mixer with the upper classmen. A chartered bus will leave the gatehouse at 1:00 p.m. on Sunday, February 4th and return around 5:00 p.m. that afternoon. Afternoon dresses or nice pants are the requested attire.

For further details on these upcoming events, check the calendar and be listening for announcements in the dining hall.

Pat Jones, Barbara Sam, President: Cindy Pikul, Debbie DePalma.

Curtain Callers

Post Script, Nov. 21, 1972

The Roar of the Grease Paint ...

by Laura Brown

Curtain Callers will open up this season with the sparkling and side-splitting play — Good-bye My Fancy. It is the story of a liberal Congresswoman, Agatha Reed, who returns to her old college to receive an honorary degree. Because of her wartime experiences she has devoted her life to the task of making people aware of the horrors of war. That is why she has brought a documentary film to show the innocent young graduates. However, the board of trustees of the college think that the film is much too harsh and improper to show to the girls, so Miss Reed has a fight on her hands. The conflict exposes the president of the college to be a spineless and irresolute figure, instead of the strong and outspoken figure that she has thought herself to be in love with for so many years. Her disenchantment drives her into the arms of a wartime flame, who as a Life photographer, has come down to cover the event.

The play is being directed by the very talented Eileen Hammond, a professional actress. Ms. Hammond was born in London, and studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art. She has done every aspect and medium of the theater, from acting on the stage and directing to appearing on BBC.
